

Taiwan show love earth concept environment art exhibition was echoed

Time: 2016/09/28 10:43 Latest update: 2016/09/28 11:44

The opening ceremony of the "2016 Art Exhibition" was held at the 27th (local time) evening in New York, Taipei, and was warmly echoed by US environmental groups. Deputy Director of the Institute of Human Impacts Tara DePorte (Green) who took part in the review and the artist's photo. Central News Agency reporter Huang Zhaoping New York on September 28, 2005

Taiwan is actively expressing its willingness to participate. The "2016 Environmental Art Exhibition" was held in Taipei, Japan, to support the environmental protection activities of environmental protection organizations in New York. The " Get a lot of reverberation.

The opening ceremony of the "2016 Art Exhibition" was held at the 27th (local time) evening in New York, Taipei, and was warmly echoed by US environmental groups. Central News Agency reporter Huang Zhaoping New York on September 28, 2005

In the third consecutive year of collaboration with the New York Environmental Group, the Hong Kong Environmental Protection Agency organized the "Creative Climate Awards" in 2016, at the opening ceremony to attract US environmental groups Crisis information network "and so on more than 200 guests to join the festivities.

In addition to the static exhibition, this year for the first time to hold the environmental film exhibition and jazz concert, the number of artists participated in the competition has always been the largest, a total of 45 from the national environmental artists to participate in creative arts to convey the impact of climate change on human beings, inspired love the earth The 45 selected paintings and installation works of art, this exhibition will be held in the Department of the text to October 27, October 6, 13, 20 will also hold the Environmental Film and Music Exhibition, held on October 27 closing reception Awards ceremony.

Taipei Prefectural Director Xu Liwen said that the exhibition of environmental creative art competition for three consecutive years, in addition to art works moved people, leaving the people more concerned about environmental issues.

Xu Liwen told the guests, Taiwan is committed to promoting environmental protection and energy saving, not only legislation through greenhouse gas reduction, in line with the United Nations Framework Convention on Climate Change (UNFCCC) norms, civil society is also very keen on environmental protection, such as "Green Island Elephant

Originally published at: <http://www.cna.com.tw/news/aopl/201609280104-1.aspx#>